

The probability of a person having liver disease, given that they are an alcoholic, is 3.54 percent

The probability of a person NOT having liver disease, given they are an alcoholic, is 96.46 percent

The probability of a person having liver disease, given they are NOT an alcoholic, is 0.04 percent

The probability of a person NOT having liver disease, given they are not alcoholic, is 99.96 percent